

There is a new case of dementia every four seconds.

Is your business prepared?

People walk through your doors and interact with your business every day. Do your employees recognize the signs that someone may have dementia? Do they know how to assist them?

Age Well Arrowhead is offering Dementia Friendly at Work, a one-hour training session for businesses and their employees.

Participants of this training will learn:

- Signs of Alzheimer's disease and other forms of dementia
- Effective communication strategies for people with dementia
- Dementia's impact on businesses
- Strategies to create a dementia-friendly workplace

Upon completion of this training, your business will receive a certificate of completion, be featured on Age Well Arrowhead's Facebook page and website, and in the Duluth News Tribune's Biz Buzz section. This training provided by Age Well Arrowhead benefits your employees, your company – and our entire community.

With support from The Victory Fund through its Dementia Friendly Duluth initiative, Age Well Arrowhead is excited to offer this training at no cost to you for a limited time. Lunch or snacks will also be included!
