Although Google and Wikipedia are at our students' fingertips, we should remind them that library resources are vast and vetted.

Some of the studio and academic resources are more robust than others but students should be encouraged to check them out.

APPENDIX I

People to Contact when I have a question about...

“LaGuardia is similar to a small city of nearly 2,900 students, 200 staff, and approximately 10,000 parents/guardians, complete with many services, departments, regulations, and experiences. For the most part, our building runs smoothly, yet every once in a while, our community members want to ask questions or express concerns. The list of staff members below shows the primary contact person for each area of concern. If you are unable to reach a person, often we have provided a second or third contact person. By following this organizational chart, we will be able to provide the best service, resolution, or experience that we can.”
