Sarah John, Founder at Boss Brewing, Multi-award-winning Mumpreneur, Wales

Sarah John is a multi-award-winning entrepreneur and the Co-Founder and Director of Boss Brewing, one of Wales' fastest growing craft breweries with national and international distribution. She also founded and operates a city centre bar in Swansea, which is located opposite the Liberty Stadium and is a popular match day bar.

Sarah's brewing company is one of the few female-owned breweries in the country and in just under five years, is already in the top 25% of microbreweries in the UK in terms of turnover – she is rising to the top not just in a crowded industry, but also in a male-dominated one.

Sarah's company already has national listings with some of the largest pub companies in the UK including JD Wetherspoon, Mitchells and Butlers and Stonegate. She exports her beers world-over to parts of Europe, North America and Asia.

Sarah is exceptionally driven, ambitious and determined and her hunger means that she can count four major retailers (Asda, Tesco, Co-op and Morrisons) among her customers – one of the youngest breweries ever to achieve national retailer listings. This all-round commercial success meant that her brewery picked up the coveted 'Commercial Achievement' gong at the SIBA business awards last year, beating off competition from the 2000 other breweries in the UK at what is recognised in the industry as the single most reputable business awards in the calendar.

Her brewery has also won over 30 industry awards for the beer itself including the prestigious CAMRA Champion Beer of Wales in 2019 for its 'hero' stout, Boss Black. This beer was just this year (2020) made a runner up in the Chamber Winter Beer of Britain competition. The brewery is in the running for SIBA Supreme Champion Beer of Britain 2020.

In 2020 Sarah was celebrated as one of the Daily Mail's Mumpreneurs of the UK, making a shortlist of just 6 female entrepreneurs. She won the Wales Chamber of Commerce Young Entrepreneur of the Year award and also Start-Up of the Year award in 2015. In 2018, she was awarded Chwarae Teg's Business Woman of the Year. She was honoured in 2017 by the Co-op as a Food Heroine of the Year. In both 2018 and 2019, she was listed in the Wales Online as 35 women to watch under 35. In 2019, she took home the crown for Great British Entrepreneur in the Food and Drink category for Wales. She won a Chamber of Commerce award in the Marketing category this year for the David V Goliath campaign she led around the brewery's legal trademark battle with Hugo Boss. The very same bold campaign also brought about a win at the SIBA Independent Business Awards in the Marketing category earlier in 2020.

She is a member of the All-Party Parliamentary Beer Group based at the Houses of Parliament. She is also one of the founders of the 'Grocery Girls', a network that encourages women to aspire to leadership roles within the grocery sector that is headed up by the CEO of Coop Food, Jo Whitfield.

She is a mum to a five-year-old having started up her brewery enterprise when pregnant and is passionate about encouraging other women and specifically mums to have the career they want.
