FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Tangram Receives BHCOE Accreditation, Demonstrating Commitment to Excellence

Indianapolis, Indiana – July 1, 2024 - Tangram is proud to announce that its Connie J. Dillman Center for Autism and Behavioral Health has received accreditation from the Behavioral Health Center of Excellence (BHCOE). This accreditation is a testament to Tangram's commitment to excellence in providing top-quality autism and behavioral health services for youth and young adults, in Central Indiana.

The BHCOE accreditation recognizes organizations that demonstrate the highest standards of clinical quality, transparency, and accountability in the field of behavioral health. By achieving this accreditation, Tangram has solidified its position as a trusted provider of autism programs that meet the needs of individuals and families in the Indianapolis community. Kari Sheward, VP of Behavioral Health and Clinical Services at Tangram, expressed her excitement about the accreditation and the organization's dedication to delivering exceptional services. She stated, "We are thrilled to receive accreditation from BHCOE for our Connie J Dillman Center for Autism and Behavioral Health. This recognition underscores our unwavering commitment to excellence and our ongoing efforts to provide the highest quality of care for individuals with autism and behavioral health needs."

Tangram's autism programs offer a comprehensive range of services designed to support individuals with autism spectrum disorder and related behavioral health challenges. From early intervention to transitional support for young adults, Tangram's team of experienced professionals is dedicated to helping individuals reach their full potential and lead fulfilling lives. The Connie J. Dillman Center for Autism and Behavioral Health is currently accepting new clients, offering a wide array of autism support services with experienced clinicians.
