

November

11th Grade

Getting to Know Your Dean...

The holiday season is upon us. This is my favorite time of year because those I love the most gather with grateful hearts and yummy treats! I am eternally thankful for the love of God and His peace that surpasses all understanding. I rest in the assurance of knowing that He is my rock. He loves me perfectly and provides for my every need. May your Good God bless you this holiday season!

Spring SAT Preparation

Why use official SAT Practice?

<https://satsuite.collegeboard.org/sat-suite-benefits-students-parents/sat-test-prep-free-to-everyone>

College Board

<https://satsuite.collegeboard.org/sat/practice-preparation/studying-practicing>

Khan Academy

<https://www.khanacademy.org/digital-sat/confirmed>

Junior College Prep

It's never too early to start earning money for college! Follow the money link to find a list of scholarship opportunities for 11th grade students graduating in 2024!

Junior Tip #3

Work on College Readiness Life Skills: How can I get ready for college life?

Make a list of the life skills you would like to learn, then keep adding to it. Think through the best way for you to learn about each skill. Can your dad teach you to cook your favorite meal? Can your neighbor teach you how to check your oil or change a tire? Can your mom teach you the basics of doing laundry? Can your teacher or mentor help you set short term goals and make a plan to achieve them? What about grocery shopping, money management, and personal safety? Some things you can teach yourself, like remembering to set your alarm clock so you wake up on time. Many skills you can learn by watching a tutorial online. Depending on the number of life skills you want to learn, make a plan and set a goal— such as learning and practicing one new skill every month.