ART IN THE FORM OF FILM 12 ANGRY MEN / DEC 6 FRIDAY 5:45-9pm

Directed by Sidney Lumet, this black-and-white film is often called an action film, even though all its action is verbal and the only setting is an unadorned room in need of air-conditioning. In terms of created tension and camera movement, 12 Angry Men is as close to perfect as a film can be. The great Henry Fonda plays the only holdout in the jury deliberations of a murder trial. The story tracks Fonda's persuasive arguments to the eleven other jury members. Paul Marino leads the discussion.

$7 includes wine or water Ages 6-11. Kids make art supply kits from duct tape, make watercolors from everyday kitchen items, learn watercolor how-to, then paint an action figure or an aquatic animal. They take home their painting and all their supplies so they can keep on creating! Member parent $60; Non-Member parent $70 (all supplies included) based on her own family's history, the novel chronicles the Hesse family, early colonists in Hungary. One son remains there. The other, a violin prodigy, moves to Venice, studies with Haydn and becomes friends with Beethoven.

Poetry and music sustain the family through prosperity, tragedy, the persecution of ethnic Germans, revolutions and World Wars.
