Facilitated by Toni Hanzich, LMSW

Active Parenting NOW!

The video-based parent education series will address how parents can

- improve communication with our children;
- teach responsibility and other important values;
- handle problems as they come up; defuse power struggles;
- cope with difficult topics such as drugs, bullying & sex;
- stimulate independence as our children grow older &
- encourage our kids to be their best!

Active Parenting NOW is perhaps the most effective program ever offered in the "how to" of raising children.
