Roto North America's focus on product quality and performance was on display at GlassBuild America 2016, held on October 19-21 in Las Vegas. Roto North America took the opportunity to highlight some new products, including the 9900 sliding patio door handle, as well as a variety of products from the North American and European product lines.

With an attendance of nearly 9,000 and more than 430 exhibiting companies, GlassBuild America 2016 lived up to expectations as a gathering place for the entire glass, window and door industries.

"This is a great event for us and another opportunity to showcase some of our new products," said Chris

Dimou, President & CEO of Roto North America. "We were pleased to participate again this year, not only as an exhibitor, but as a sponsor for the Glazing Executives Forum as well."
