Junior Achievement of Central Ohio

At Junior Achievement of Central Ohio (JA), we imagine a future where each new generation is inspired and prepared to achieve personal success in their careers and lives. We bridge the gap between education and work for central Ohio K-12 students by creating environments and experiences where students discover their potential, identify their talents and interests, and explore pathways for their future. When students realize what is possible, they begin appreciating their K-12 education and how it relates to life after graduation. The pillars of JA programs are financial literacy, career-readiness, and entrepreneurship. Students come to believe that financial security, a fulfilling career, and even owning a business are within reach. JA serves students in the classroom, virtually, at our facility, or at an employer's campus.

Patrick Losinski

2021 Central Ohio Business Hall of Fame Laureate

Since 2002, Pat Losinski has served as Chief Executive Officer of the Columbus Metropolitan Library (CML).

Prior to joining CML, Pat was executive director of Pikes Peak Library District in Colorado Springs. He has worked for public library systems in Wisconsin, Illinois, Colorado, and Ohio, and has served on the state library boards in Illinois and Colorado. He is the past chair of the Urban Libraries Council's Governing Board and a former Governing Board member of the International Federation of Library Associations headquartered in The Hague.

Most recently, Pat is helping lead a $250M capital improvement plan for 16 new or remodeled library buildings.

CML received the Institute for Museum and Library Services National Medal in 2011 and was named Library Journal's National Library of the Year in 2010.

Columbus CEO magazine named him 2015 CEO of the Year in the large non-profit category. He was also awarded the 2017 Regional Leadership Award by the Mid-Ohio Regional Planning Commission and in 2018 received Columbus Business First's C-Suite Awards for Most Admired Executive and Lifetime Achievement.

Guy Worley

2021 Central Ohio Business Hall of Fame Laureate

A leader in central Ohio's real estate development and business community, Guy Worley has more than 25 years of leadership, management, and financial experience. Since 2007, Guy Worley has served as President/Chief Executive Officer of the Columbus Downtown Development Corporation (CDDC) and Capitol South Community Urban Redevelopment Corporation.

During his tenure, CDDC has spearheaded nationally recognized projects, including Columbus Commons and the Scioto Mile, which leveraged more than $400 million in private investments in the surrounding blocks, adding over 900 residential units and 300,000 square feet of office to the downtown area.

Guy also led development of the new National Veterans Memorial and Museum, the nation's first and only memorial and museum dedicated to celebrating the stories of veterans from every era and branch of service.

Together, the Scioto Greenways, Dorrian Green, American Museum of Natural History inside COSI, and the National Veterans Memorial and Museum make up the Scioto Peninsula Cultural District, the first components of an emerging downtown neighborhood. These projects were honored by the Urban Land Institute with the distinguished Global Award for Excellence.

And the next wave of development on the Scioto Peninsula is already underway. With CDDC, Guy led the first phase of a new mixed-use district, bringing modern office space, a lifestyle hotel, resort-style residential units and signature dining and shopping experiences to The Peninsula in Downtown Columbus.

Previously, Guy served as Chief of Staff for Columbus' Mayor Michael B. Coleman; was an Executive Consultant in Performance Management and Budgeting with CGI-AMS' Advantage ERP service line in Fairfax, Virginia; and served as County Administrator for the Franklin County Board of Commissioners. Guy is an alumnus of the Ohio State University's John Glenn College of Public Affairs and has served as an Adjunct Professor of Performance Management and Budgeting for the College's graduate program.

Tia Holliman

2021 Educator of the Year

Tia Holliman has worked in education for 19 years. She was a high school math teacher for 10 years, prior to transitioning into administration. She currently serves as Director of Curriculum, K-12 for Gahanna Jefferson School District.

"I have always been passionate about ensuring that every student has access to quality learning opportunities, both in and out of the classroom," she says. "Exposure is key, and when kids see what is possible and can experience it firsthand, it becomes more attainable for them."

Tia has worked to create a multitude of opportunities for the students of her district. Many Gahanna 5th grade students attend JA BizTown, and Tia has worked with JA to create additional opportunities including a JA Apprenticeship program with Abercrombie & Fitch's supply chain department, and a JA Job Shadow at Microsoft.

"I think one of the most important things schools can provide students is choice and opportunity to explore interests and passions in a low-stakes environment. The more chances students get to hone in on their interests and passions, the more engaged they are and open to learn."

The school district has also created a Workforce Development Advisory Council, of which JA participate.

"Our partnership over the years continues to grow as Junior Achievement helps us connect with local businesses and industries to provide more exploratory experiences for our students."

Ron Birchfield

2021 Volunteer of the Year

Ron Birchfield was born and raised in Toledo, Ohio, and is a former student of Junior Achievement. From The Ohio State University, he earned a Bachelor of Science in Human Nutrition Sciences, and a Master of Health Administration.

He completed an administrative fellowship with OhioHealth, and now serves as the Administrative Manager for Pulmonary Services at OhioHealth Riverside Methodist Hospital. For the past two years, Ron has served as liaison between Junior Achievement and OhioHealth.

"I am passionate about the work that I do because it is a genuine opportunity to improve the lives of others in the smallest and largest of ways," he says. "My team and I care for patients and their families at the best moments, and the most challenging moments. Being able to lead people through those moments on a daily basis and demonstrate that care is multifaceted, is something I value."

Ron has helped OhioHealth expose local students to non-traditional, healthcare career pathways through JA Career Speaker Series. He is also working to host students on-site in OhioHealth's simulation laboratory to give them the same hands-on learning experiences that OhioHealth provides clinicians.

Ron and OhioHealth are in the process of developing career pathways for hard-to-fill areas within the health system to allow students to learn from OhioHealth experts, and to ultimately be considered for future career opportunities at OhioHealth.

New Program Spotlight: JA Inspire!

JA Inspire is Junior Achievement's career-pathway program for 8th – 12th grade students brought to life by our region's employers. This new program exposes students to central Ohio's jobs, career opportunities, and education pathways while planning their high school coursework.

Either in the classroom or through a self-paced guidebook, students will learn about careers in various industries and uncover where they might excel in the working world. After completing their coursework, including watching a series of videos, completing various activities, and practicing self-reflection, students will participate in a virtual, career-pathing simulation learning about employment opportunities both during and after high school. Using virtual technology, JA Inspire features an online career event filled with local business exhibits, educational webinars, and downloadable career information. Working with their school staff, students then can follow-up with opportunities of interest.

Participate as a Business: JA is partnering with companies to sponsor and be featured in the JA Inspire classroom curriculum and virtual simulation for thousands of middle and high school students. Sponsors will support student participation, as well as provide custom videos, photos, and career information to highlight their company. The virtual simulation platform will be accessible to students throughout the 2021/2022 school year.

Participate as a School: JA can provide JA Inspire at no cost to your school. With curriculum aligned to the Ohio New Learning Standards, educators enroll their students to receive this program with curriculum that can either be instructor or self-lead. Educators will receive their own easy-to-follow Instructor Guide to implement JA Inspire with their students. JA staff members will support you along the way.

Visit centralohio.ja.org and click "Get Involved" to participate or sponsor.

Investing in our future

By empowering students today, we inspire them to dream big and achieve their potential tomorrow.
