- Subrogation rules are complicated, confusing and expensive to apply. We can do better.
- When you do the right thing and file a FROI, your employees are bombarded by solicitations from trial lawyers telling your employees you will cheat them, and the lawyer will make them a lot of money. That needs to stop.
- Your employee's attorney threatens penalties if you don't immediately begin paying benefits. You suspect your employee's medical problems are longstanding and unrelated to his job with your company. But your employee refuses to allow you to obtain his records. It doesn't have to be that way.
