Statesboro Bulloch Chamber of Commerce Welcomes Jeremy Wilburn as New Business Development Director

Statesboro, GA - May 1, 2024 - The Statesboro Bulloch Chamber of Commerce is pleased to announce Jeremy Wilburn as their new Business Development Director. With his extensive experience, education, and exceptional leadership skills, Wilburn is set to bring a unique perspective and drive economic growth for the members of the Statesboro Bulloch Chamber.

As the Business Development Director, Wilburn will be responsible for fostering relationships with local businesses and implementing strategies to enhance the economic vitality of chamber members. With a proven track record in entrepreneurship, marketing and communications, creative direction, and a deep understanding of the local community, Wilburn is well-equipped to lead the Chamber's efforts in promoting growth and prosperity for its members.

Wilburn joins the Chamber with a wealth of experience working in higher education, strategic planning, and entrepreneurship. His previous role includes a 12+ year career at Georgia Southern University where he helped launch many successful programs and formed strategic partnerships within the community, empowering him with a dynamic perspective on the needs of businesses and organizations within the community. His passion for business development, leadership, and education combined with his dedication to building strong relationships will undoubtedly contribute to the continued success of the Statesboro Bulloch Chamber of Commerce.

"We are thrilled to have Jeremy Wilburn join our team as the Business Development Director," said Jennifer Davis, Chamber President/CEO. "His expertise and passion for business development align perfectly with our mission to advance business success. We are confident that under his leadership, we will see significant progress in creating opportunities for our members."

Wilburn's hire comes at a crucial time as the area is poised to see unprecedented growth and the Chamber continues to focus on supporting member businesses as they face increased demands for service. With his innovative ideas and strategic vision, Wilburn will play a pivotal role in supporting the economic sustainability within our service area.

"I am honored to be selected for this role, and I look forward to working with our business community during such an exciting time of growth and opportunity. For more than a decade, Statesboro has been my home, and I am eager to give back to the community which has given so much to me," shared Wilburn.

The Statesboro Bulloch Chamber of Commerce looks forward to the positive impact that Wilburn will bring as the new Business Development Director. Together, the Chamber team is committed to fostering a thriving business climate and creating a prosperous future for the Statesboro Bulloch community.
