

Coronavirus (COVID-19) Update

June 25, 2020

As communities and businesses continue to re-open and the Fourth of July holiday approaches, let's work together by practicing preventative measures both on and off site, encouraging each other to follow the guidelines recommended by the CDC and uplifting one another as we keep Safety First for ourselves, our teammates and our communities.

According to the CDC, the best way to prevent COVID-19 is to avoid being exposed to this virus, which is mainly spread from person-to-person. This is why it is so important to put distance between yourself and others where possible. This includes people who are visibly ill and those who are not, since many who are positive for COVID-19 don't show any symptoms.

The CDC also offers guidance for deciding when to go out. Per the guidance, some things you should consider include:

- In general, the more closely you interact with others and the longer that interaction, the higher the risk of COVID-19 spread.
- If you decide to engage in public activities, continue to protect yourself by practicing everyday preventive actions.
- Keep these items on hand when venturing out: a cloth face covering, tissues and a hand sanitizer with at least 60% alcohol, if possible.

Vogtle 3&4 COVID-19 Testing Update

Since Thursday, June 18, we have been notified of nine additional individuals who have tested positive for COVID-19.

Site leadership will continue to closely monitor conditions using the data available and will draw on the expertise of health officials, including the latest recommendations from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention and the medical professionals providing guidance specifically for our Vogtle 3&4 team.

The proactive measures we've implemented throughout this pandemic to limit the spread of the virus and protect the health and safety of our workforce will continue and evolve based on any new information and guidelines.
