IUP CENTER FOR CREATIVITY AND CHANGE TO OFFER WORKSHOP ON INNOVATIVE COUNSELING STRATEGIES WITH TEENS

Distribution Date: Sept. 8, 2017

INDIANA, Pa. -- The Indiana University of Pennsylvania Center for Creativity and Change will feature the topic of innovative strategies in counseling teens for its fall 2017 workshop.

The one-day seminar, "Tough Kids, Cool Counseling: Innovative Strategies that Lead to Change," will be presented by Dr. John Sommers-Flanagan, professor in the Department of Counselor Education at the University of Montana.

The workshop will be held from 8:30 a.m. to 3:15 p.m. on Oct. 13 at the Westmoreland Intermediate Unit 7 in Greensburg.

Dr. Sommers-Flanagan is a popular keynote speaker and professional workshop presenter throughout the North America. He is author or coauthor of more than 60 professional publications and eight books.

His books include "Tough Kids, Cool Counseling" (2007); "How to Listen so Parents Will Talk and Talk so Parents will Listen" (2011); and "Clinical Interviewing" (2017). He is also the cohost of the "Practically Perfect Parenting Podcast."

More information about the workshop and registration can be found on the Center for Creativity and Change's website www.iup.edu/counseling/centers/ or by calling the Center at (412) 824-1999. A discounted early bird registration will be available until Sept. 22.

For more information, contact Dr. John McCarthy, IUP Center for Creativity and Change, at john.mccarthy@iup.edu

30

IUP is a member of Pennsylvania's State System of Higher Education