TEMPE, Ariz. - May 18, 2023 - PRLog -- The National Emergency Medical Transportation Accreditation Commission® (NEMTAC) is pleased to announce the opening of the public comment period for Draft Standard 1001 NEMT Levels of Service. From May 19, 2023, through June 18, 2023, stakeholders and interested parties are invited to provide valuable input and feedback on the proposed standard.

Draft Standard 1001 NEMT Levels of Service establishes a comprehensive framework for defining and ensuring appropriate levels of service in non-emergency medical transportation (NEMT) operations. It aims to enhance the quality and safety of transportation services for individuals with medical needs, ensuring that they receive timely and reliable transportation that meets their specific requirements.

During the public comment period, NEMTAC encourages individuals, organizations, and industry experts to review the draft standard and share their thoughts, suggestions, and concerns. Public input is vital in the development of robust and effective standards that reflect the diverse needs and perspectives of the NEMT community.

"We are excited to open the public comment period for Draft Standard 1001 NEMT Levels of Service," said Effie Carlson, Board President of NEMTAC. "The public comment process is vital to standards development as it fosters transparency, inclusivity, and ensures our standards are robust and effective. Every community contribution reinforces the integrity of the process and strengthens the NEMT industry overall as we move it forward together for the betterment of the transportation providers and patients."
