The U.N. approved, multinational force has arrived in Haiti. 400 Kenyan troops are assisting the police to control gangs, with more on the way. Also, other countries in the Caribbean are sending troops to quell the violence. This indeed is promising! We say "Amen!"

Hello friends! We are on the cusp of a new Haiti! Along with the troops, the U.S. has sent much equipment and provisions to restore order and peace. We are constantly in prayer that God will restore Haiti. Thank you so much for your prayers. Please continue! We are so very grateful for each and every one of you. If you have asked, "How can I help?", below is a list of needs that can be shipped from our South Jersey location. Your donations are greatly appreciated. They may be purchased online (Amazon) and delivered to:

Vatican News Kenyan Troops arrive in Haiti SABC NEWS

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti (AP) — Haitian Prime Minister Garry Conille ordered gangs to surrender their weapons during a televised speech in which he acknowledged how dangerous life in Haiti's capital and beyond has become. He pledged to crack down on the rampant violence. "Life every day in Port-au-Prince has turned into a battle for survival," he said. "Many innocent people have lost their lives."
"Drop your weapons and recognize the authority of the State."

Scores of trucks like the one pictured line the street. By declaring a state of emergency, the Prime Minister has given the government the tools it needs to act, eradicate the gangs and restore state authority.

Kenyan police in Haiti in partnership with local police managed to take over the main port in Port-au-Prince, which had been under the control of gangs for five months. This came as Haitian Prime Minister Garry Conille declared a state of emergency in 14 gang-controlled municipalities.

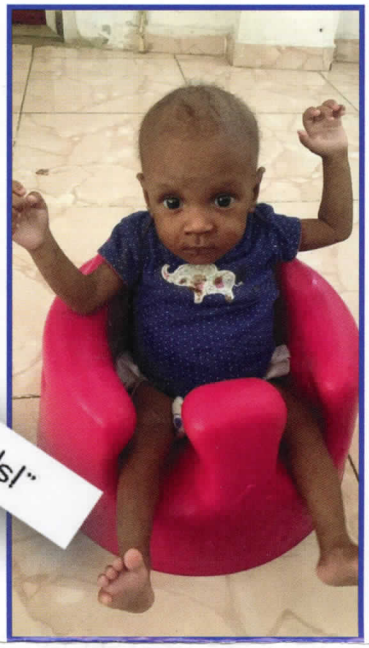

Haitian Police Chief Normil Rameau told a news conference that police took control of the Hospital of the State University of Haiti, known as the General Hospital in Port-au-Prince, after months of escalating attacks from armed groups. We say "Amen!"

Asheleika Thomas after a few weeks at Hope Alive's Solace Nutrition Center.

Despite the continuous horror in Haiti, our medical clinics, sewing school, & Solace Nutrition Hospital have remained open, even treating patients with gunshot wounds. Many of our key staff have been forced out of their homes at gunpoint. Food prices are very high. Fuel and water are very hard to find. Gunshots are heard throughout the day and night. Please pray homes are restored, safety for all, and enough food, water, and fuel are supplied.

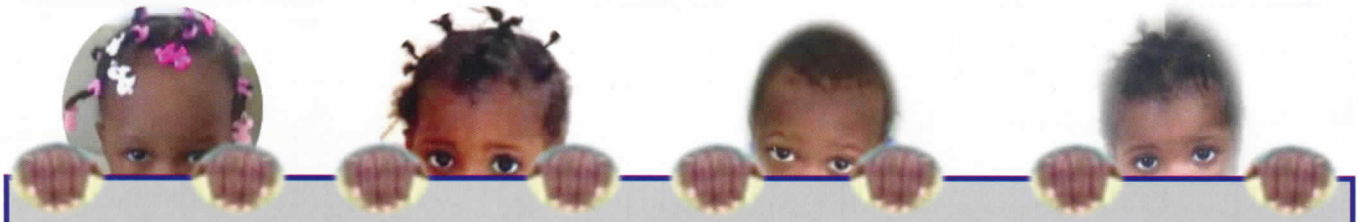

Please prayerfully consider helping us keep hope alive in Haiti.

Your prayers and any donations, big or small, will go a very long way. Thank you for your continued support.

We are now preparing for visiting mission teams when things are settled in Haiti. Keep watching for updates.

Especially at this time,
please help us fight against malnutrition for only $25/month.
At Solace 24-hour nutrition center, Hope Alive keeps hope alive in families, keeping kids alive, keeping families together and kids out of orphanages.

These are indeed anxious and trying times, not only in Haiti but world-wide. War in Israel and in Ukraine, unrest in Africa and political problems in Europe and here in the U.S. God is our only hope. "In Him we live and move and have our being."

"Do not be anxious about anything, but in every situation, by prayer and petition, with thanksgiving, present your requests to God. And the peace of God, which transcends all understanding, will guard your hearts and your minds in Christ Jesus." Philippians 4:6-7

We say "Amen!" Pastor Frank and Leslee Jacobs
