

Grace Church - Rector's Notes - Summer 2019

Grace Church members,

I have been your rector for 6 wonderful months and feel very fortunate to be here. I love the worship here and your passion for music, in-reach, outreach, education and so much more. It is my prayer that we will continue to build together upon Grace's amazing history and tradition. Furthermore, I wanted to share with you what I now see occurring at your parish.

Within the past month, I sat down with the Search Committee, headed by Carlos Muñoz and Linda Gallo, and reconfirmed their process and priorities in their search for a new rector that culminated in my coming to Grace. The committee confirmed that this process began in August of 2017 and ended with my beginning this past January 2019.

The Search Committee confirmed the priorities looked for in their search for your next rector. The characteristics desired included the following. First, they wanted a solid preacher, one that would connect ancient scripture to our contemporary lives. Second, they desired a rector that would focus on pastoral care, loving and being present for our parish members. Third, they wanted a rector capable of administration, one who would help organize and lead the parish in its daily activities.

Fourth, they desired a rector that would help build our community, further cementing Grace and La Gracia, and connect our parish to the greater White Plains community. And Fifth, they wanted a rector who would help grow our parish.

It is my plan to focus on these items, realizing there are many necessary activities not included in this list such as stewardship, education and many other important church ministries. And we will focus on these as well. I share these priorities for two reasons. First, to confirm that your voices have been heard and valued. And second, that your choices have become my priorities as your rector. My activities and leadership will strive prayerfully to fulfill and support these endeavors.

Our success will heavily depend on the community bond we create as we follow Jesus Christ, the Son of God, manifest through the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit. In order to give you a better picture of some of the things now going on at Grace, I've decided to share a list of some of our current activities. Please review the list below and feel free to discuss any of these with me at your convenience. You can email me or call me to set up a personal 'coffee time'. Please know that I love Grace La Gracia and look forward to our working and worshipping together well into the future.
