

Are you an early childhood educator?
Have you participated in programs to help you pursue your education?
Did you or someone you know ever have to leave his or her job because of increased educational requirements or low pay?
Are current requirements for teacher knowledge and competencies too high or too low?

If you answered yes to any of these questions,
WE WANT TO HEAR YOUR STORIES!

Join Us

All Hands on Deck for a More Defined, Unified, and Supported ECE Profession:
A Discussion on the Power to the Profession Initiative

Presented by the NAEYC Asian Interest Forum in Partnership with First 5 San Francisco

Through the Power to the Profession initiative, early childhood educators around the country are having important conversations to establish a shared framework around the competencies, qualifications, and compensation for our profession.

Your voice is needed!

We invite you to join us for an overview of Power to the Profession, followed by a discussion about the risks, rewards, impacts, and consequences of this initiative.

Hosted by: First 5 San Francisco

Date: Friday, December 7, 2018

Time: 9:30 am – 12:00 pm

Location: 1390 Market Street, Training Room 1125, San Francisco, 94102

To Register: <https://www.eventbrite.com/e/naeyc-power-to-the-profession-dialogue-tickets-53033979059>

