Mission Day

We celebrated our first week of Advent with other schools in the Archdiocese of Boston by participating in Mission Day on Thursday. Students in Grades 3-8, Zoomed with the Missionary Childhood Association.

In 1951, now Venerable Archbishop Fulton J. Sheen, then National Director of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith, envisioned the World Mission Rosary. Speaking as part of his weekly radio program, The Catholic Hour, Archbishop Sheen gave each decade of beads a different color, representing a different area of the world where missionaries continue to share the Good News of Jesus: n Green symbolizes the forests and grasslands of Africa; n Blue is for the ocean surrounding the Islands of the Pacific; n White stands for Europe, home of the Holy Father, first missionary of the Church; n Red reflects the fire of faith that brought the first missionaries to the Americas, and n Yellow is for the morning light of the East, for Asia. As you pray the World Mission Rosary, you call to mind the great needs of our mission family.

Students heard from missionaries from Zambia and Ireland as well as Cardinal Sean O'Malley. They also made chaplets and prayed for children around the world.

Fun Facts About Christmas Trees

Christmas trees used to hang like chandeliers in Poland!

Don't be alarmed if you see a tree hanging upside down from the ceiling. This trend actually originated in medieval times, according to The Spruce. Legend goes that a Benedictine monk used the triangle shape of the inverted tree to explain the Holy Trinity to pagans. But the idea really took off in the 1900s in Poland with podłazniczek, a custom where Polish people decorated the branches with fruit, nuts, and ribbons, then hung the tree from the ceiling!
