Washington, DC 20330-1340

Dear Brigadier General Hertog:

On behalf of the Board of Directors of the National Law Enforcement Officers Memorial Fund, allow me to thank Security Forces Deputy Director David R. Beecroft for his presentation at a recent meeting of our Names Committee. He spoke eloquently and with passion about including the names of Military Police Officers to the National Law Enforcement Officers Memorial's Walls of Remembrance.

After much discussion and deliberation, the committee members voted not to amend or make revisions to the existing criteria regarding military police officers serving in an armed forces combat situation.

Please know that while their names will not be added to the Memorial, the service and sacrifice of America's military servicemen and women, as well as their families, is something that we here recognize and greatly appreciate. If you have any questions or concerns regarding this decision, please do not hesitate to contact our Memorial Programs Research staff at (202) 737-3400.

Sincerely,

Craig W. Floyd

THE NATIONAL LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICERS MEMORIAL

The Memorial features two curving, 304-foot-long blue-gray limestone walls. Carved on these walls are the names of more than 22,000 officers who died in the line of duty throughout U.S. history, dating back to the first known death in 1786. Unlike many other memorials in Washington, DC, the National Law Enforcement Officers Memorial is ever-changing: new names of fallen officers are added to it each spring, in conjunction with National Police Week.

Bordering the Memorial landscaped park are the two tree-lined “pathways of remembrance” where the names of the fallen officers are engraved.

A powerful statuary grouping of an adult lion protecting its cubs adorns each of the pathway entrances to the memorial. Sculpted by Raymond Kaskey, the bronze statues symbolize the protective role of law enforcement officers and convey the strength, courage and valor that are hallmarks of those who serve and protect.
