

“Being Mortal”

Free screening and discussion of the PBS FRONTLINE documentary Being Mortal, based on Dr. Atul Gawande’s best-selling book.

The film features patients with terminal illness and their relationships with their medical providers and the family members who care for them.

A panel of experts will help explore with the audience how to initiate important conversations with loved ones and doctors about wishes and values at the end of life, and how to plan ahead.

Thursday, October 6, 2016

6:30-8:30 PM

“The Pillow Room,” Sarah Lawrence College Library, Bronxville

Light refreshments

Registration (requested, not required) and more information: info@livewithcare.org

SCREENING HOST: Westchester End-of-Life Coalition - Live With Care project

COMMUNITY PARTNERS: Sarah Lawrence College (End-of-Life Care Program and Masters Program in Health Advocacy); Gramatan Village; Jansen Hospice and Palliative Care.

UNDERWRITERS: Hospice Foundation of America and John and Wauna Harman Foundation

