I will acknowledge your application by email after I receive it. If you have not heard that your application has been received by September 16, 2022, please contact me. In the final week before applications are due, I will acknowledge applications within a day of receipt. Please be in touch if your application has not been acknowledged. All applications received by Sept 16 are considered together when I consider dates for adjudication. Primary adjudications take precedence over secondary adjudications when I am assigning dates.

WODL will do its best to accommodate late applications. However, their approval depends on no prior adjudications occurring on the dates for which you are asking for your adjudication(s) and the approval of the travelling adjudicator who may have made commitments after the initial schedule is prepared. The adjudication schedule will be available on the WODL website www.wodl.on.ca.
