Knowledge is power: The Black breast cancer experience

OCTOBER 28, 2021 07:00PM EDT TO NOVEMBER 11, 2021 08:30PM EST

Living Beyond Breast Cancer is excited to bring you this year's Knowledge is power series to continue the discussion of disparities in breast cancer care. This year, we are also expanding the conversation to topics on how you can live well beyond your diagnosis.

During this empowering and informative three-part series, our experts will share strategies and tactics you can use if, and when, faced by roadblocks to getting the care you deserve. Our experts will also share tips on self-care and body positivity. In addition to experts, you'll also hear from Black women diagnosed with breast cancer on their experiences with health inequalities and how they overcame challenges to find their way forward.

This program is for those diagnosed with early-stage or metastatic breast cancer and the people in their lives that care about them.

There is no fee to attend this program, but you must register in advance to access the live sessions.

Sessions are October 28th, November 4th and November 11th from 7 pm – 8:30 pm
