WEEKLY NEWSLETTER

Happy New Year! We had a great first week back from winter break! In math, we solved story problems that our classmates created. In reading, we learned about synonyms and antonyms and began to discuss how to write a letter about a book we have read. We also started our new writing unit on personal narratives. Each student brainstormed a list of moments they had strong feelings for in their life. We will begin our story writing process next week!
