Dear Parents,

We want to keep you informed about what is happening at NIS in regards to summer. Last week Governor Cuomo announced that all schools in NYS would be continuing remote learning through the summer. This week, it was announced that summer camps would be allowed to open at the end of June.

NIS has not received an official executive order, however we are not classified as a camp. Be assured that we are brainstorming and looking at the ever-changing regulations from NYS to determine what we are legally allowed to provide. We continue to prepare for all options and will keep you up to date with any final decisions.

Thank you for your patience.

Sincerely,

Kristen Moran
