VANDALS IDENTIFIED, ARRESTED, FOLLOWING CRIME STOPPERS TIP

On the night of October 10, 2021, vandals targeted Venezia Park in northern Colorado Springs, CO damaging restrooms, lighting, benches, and painting graffiti and obscenities. They left behind damaged materials, broken equipment and lamps, paint cans, and miscellaneous trash and debris. It was determined a minimum of $20,000 in repairs and restoration would be needed to put the park back to its original state.

The very next day, Pikes Peak Area Crime Stoppers issued a $1,000 reward for information leading to an arrest for these crimes.

On October 12, 2021, local citizen “Hiking Bob” Falcone, irritated by the damage and graffiti, called Crime Stoppers, and offered to increase the reward to $2,000 with a private donation. An announcement doubling the reward went out that same day.

Hours later, an anonymous citizen called Pikes Peak Area Crime Stoppers and provided information that included a video with facial details of the vandals, along with what they were wearing, and more which led to the arrest of those involved.

“Crime Stoppers is proud to have helped a concerned citizen deliver critical information about a crime to local authorities,” said Don Addy, Chairman of the local Crime Stoppers chapter. "Mr. Falcone is like many other citizens who want to help, and his reward boost was a big factor

"No doubt Crime Stoppers is a very helpful tool to our Investigations Division. They receive information that we would not and often it is the difference in making an arrest," said Sean Mandel, Commander of the CSPD Investigations Division. "We're thankful for the citizen who brought the information and video forward."

SAFETY GUIDE – INTERNET SAFETY FROM: NATIONAL POLICE ASSOCIATION

Staying safe online

The internet has made our lives extremely convenient. We can find information, purchase items, and connect with our friends in a matter of seconds. With use of the internet, however, come a number of risks. As you use the internet to perform more and more tasks, consider how you are keeping you and your family safe while doing so.

Password protect all devices Protect your computer and all other smart devices (remember your phone contains just as much private information, if not more, than your computer). Use passwords that are unusual or unexpected (i.e. avoid important dates, names of pets, etc.).

Keep antivirus and antispyware software current Viruses and spyware are not only inconvenient, but can expose you to identity theft or theft of other vital information. Even if you have antivirus software, be careful what you download. Just opening an email attachment from someone you do not know can put you at risk.

Beware of social media or email scams

If a deal seems too good to be true, it probably is. Do not readily share financial or personal information with someone you do not know. Think about what you post online, and where.

Predators often check social media to find out when families are away from their home, or when and where your children are most vulnerable. If you regularly post photos of your home, children, vacation itineraries, or any information that is personal and / or semi-confidential, make sure to triple-check your privacy settings.

Kids and the internet

Have several conversations with your kids about:

- What they are using to communicate with each other
- What they are allowed to post or share
- What they are allowed to buy

Remind kids never to reveal any personal information, and never to agree to meet someone in person that they met online. Talk to kids about cyber bullying, and make sure they know who to talk to if they find themselves victims of bullying, or know someone who is. There are a number of apps and programs for parents of kids and teens to help monitor, and even limit, internet use. Check out what is available and come up with a plan that works for your family
