Where: Quest IRA | 17171 Park Row #100, Houston, TX 77084

The event is all about RV Resort and Mobile Home Parks investments and new constructions. These two asset classes are the most recession resistant properties that investors want to own and invest in. This event will educate investors about the market on those asset classes and from acquiring to building new parks throughout greater Houston area.

We focus more on ground up parks, so you can learn the steps from acquiring raw land to build and to lease up all those pads. We believe building and operating RV resorts and Mobile home parks is the way to generate the true generational wealth especially in this recessionary time. In the event, we have several industry experienced professionals and other tightly related professionals as speakers.

This event will be an excellent opportunity for investors to expand their knowledge regarding RV Resorts and Mobile home parks and develop new connections, and exchange ideas with other professionals.
