AARP Connecticut

Unmasking Modern Scams

Spot and stop today's biggest fraud threats

Fraud losses are at an all time high, driven by sophisticated imposter scams, cryptocurrency fraud, relationship scams, and online shopping scams.

Join us for a compelling and informative free event featuring the personal story of a Connecticut resident whose relationship scam resulted in nearly $1 million in losses, the head of the national AARP Fraud Helpline, and an expert from the Securities and Exchange Commission. Together, they will shed light on the fraud and scam trends affecting consumers in Connecticut and across the country - and share what you can do to protect yourself and others.

Attendees will be granted a free boxed lunch and access to the Stamford Museum & Nature Center following the event and thru closing.
