Dear Families,

Our school Book Fair is taking place November 10–13, and we're inviting families to help bring new books and learning resources into their children's classrooms!

A Book Fair information packet is coming home with your child today. Inside, you'll find more details about the fair, including how to create your child's personal eWallet for shopping and when their class will visit the fair.

In addition to shopping for your own family, please consider making a donation to your child's teacher's classroom eWallet. Teachers can use these funds at the Book Fair to choose books and other items that support learning, spark curiosity, and benefit the whole class.

Every contribution makes a difference, and donations of any amount are appreciated! Simply use the link for your child's classroom below to contribute.
