

The University of Arizona Workforce Development Program is rolling out the Parent and Family Specialist Institute (P&FSI) as an additional service to the Integrated Health Care Recovery Support Specialist Institute!

The Parent and Family Specialist Institute is instructed by Certified Parent & Family Specialists. Using Evidence Based Practices, we train parents and families to establish rapport, develop relationships, assess and support progress towards health improvements, and identify individualized goals by working with members to develop their strengths, talents and abilities to make effective personal choices.

P&FSI, an AHCCCS credentialed training, produces readily employable certified Parent & Family Specialists, with proficiency of the health care system and how to navigate it. With clear understanding of the basic skills and knowledge needed to provide direct support services to families affected by mental, behavioral, substance use and co-occurring disorders.

Attention Employers!

Trainings begin March 8th 2019!

Where: Workforce Development 2302 East Speedway, suite 202, in Tucson, AZ

When: Five consecutive Fridays from 8:30am-4:00pm starting March 8th 2019

How: apply at <https://www.fcm.arizona.edu/workforce-development-program>

For more information, or to request a program overview presentation to your group, please contact us at (520) 621-1642.