Qualities of a Leader

by Clay Stauffer

Leadership matters! It always has and it always will! Leadership matters in the local church. Jesus was a leader, but he led through humility and servanthood. He taught, "If any want to become my followers, let them DENY SELF, take up their cross, and follow me." He also said, "The Son of Man came not to be served but TO SERVE." Therefore, leading like Jesus involves becoming a servant leader. John C. Maxwell has had a tremendous influence on my understand of leadership over the years. He started as a pastor and is now one of the world's most revered experts on leadership. Years ago, he wrote a book called The 21 Indispensable Qualities of a Leader. I want to lift up TWELVE of those qualities that, I believe, are very important for leadership in the church.

Clay with John Maxwell

1. CHARACTER: Character is more than talk • Talent is a gift, but character is a choice • Character brings lasting success with people • Leaders cannot rise above the limitations of their character

2. COMMITMENT: This Separates Doers from Dreamers. What is the true nature of Commitment? Three observations: • Commitment Starts in the Heart • Commitment is Tested by Action • Commitment Opens the door to Achievement

3. COURAGE: One Person with Courage Is a Majority. As you approach the tough decisions that challenge you, recognize these truths about courage: • Courage begins with an Inward Battle • Courage is Making things Right, Not Just Smoothing Them Over • Courage in a Leader Inspires Commitment from Followers • Your Life Expands in Proportion to Your Courage

4. GENEROSITY: Cultivate the quality of generosity in your life. Here's how: • Be Grateful for Whatever you Have • Put People First • Don't Allow the Desire for Possessions to Control You • Regard Money as a Resource • Develop the Habit of Giving

5. INITIATIVE: What qualities do leaders possess that enable them to make things happen? There are at least four. • They Know What They Want • They Push Themselves to Act • They Take More Risks • They Make More Mistakes

6. LISTENING: Two purposes for listening: to connect with people and to learn. For that reason, you should keep your ears open to hear from others.

7. POSITIVE ATTITUDE: If You Believe You Can, You Can. To learn more about what it means to be positive, think on these things: • Your Attitude Is a Choice • Your Attitude Determines Your Actions • Your People are a Mirror of Your Attitude • Maintaining a Good Attitude is Easier Than Regaining

8. RELATIONSHIPS: What can a person do to manage and cultivate good relationships as a leader? Three things: • Have a Leader's Head—Understand People • Have a Leader's Heart—Love People • Extend a Leader's Hand—Help People

9. SELF-DISCIPLINE: The First Person You Lead Is Yourself. If you want to become a leader for whom self-discipline is an asset, follow these action points: • Develop and Follow Your Priorities • Make a Disciplined Lifestyle Your Goal • Challenge Your Excuses • Remove Rewards Until the Job Is Done

10. SERVANTHOOD: Put Others First. What does it mean to embody the quality of servanthood? A true servant leader: • Puts Others Ahead of His or Her Own Agenda • Possesses the Confidence to Serve • Initiates Service to Others • Is Not Position-Conscious • Serves Out of Love

11. TEACHABILITY: To Keep Leading, Keep Learning. If you want to grow your organization, you have to remain teachable. Here are five guidelines to help you cultivate and maintain a teachable attitude: • Cure Your Destination Disease • Overcome Your Success • Swear Off Shortcuts • Trade in Your Pride • Never Pay Twice for the Same Mistakes

12. VISION: Show me a leader without vision, and I'll show you someone who isn't going anywhere. To get a handle on vision and how it comes to be a part of a good leader's life, understand these things: • Vision Starts Within • Vision Draws on Your History • Vision Meets Other's Needs • Vision Helps you Gather Resources

- (John C. Maxwell 21 Indispensable Qualities of a Leader)

This edition of the Spire includes the slate of those who have been nominated and have agreed to serve in leadership positions beginning July 1st if approved by the congregation at the congregational meeting on June 16th. Please keep this group in your prayers.

Blessings,

Cheekwood President & CEO Jane MacLeod to speak at May 28 GEMS Luncheon

May 28 is the final GEMS program and buffet lunch until fall. Cheekwood, Nashville's cultural and historic 'gem', will be the topic. Woodmont member Jane MacLeod, who is Cheekwood president and CEO, will present "Cheekwood: Past, Present, and Future." The event takes place in Room 105 at noon and is open to all. Reservations are required for the $10 catered buffet. Let the church office know by Friday, May 24, if you plan to attend.

Book Club's final meeting of the year is May 21

The last meeting of the WCC Book Club until fall will be on Tuesday, May 21th, at 10:30 in Room 107. Please bring the title of a paperback book or books that you would like for us to consider reading next year. Debbie Baird will lead a discussion on 'KILLERS OF THE FLOWER MOON' by David Grann. Hope to see everyone there.
