One: May I be no one's enemy, and may I be the friend of that which is eternal and abides.

Many: May I wish for every person's happiness and envy none.

One: May I never rejoice in the ill fortune of one who has wronged me.

Many: May I, to the extent of my power, give needful help to all who are in want.

One: May I never fail a friend.

Many May I always keep tame that which rages within me.

One: May I accustom myself to be gentle, and never be angry with others because of circumstances.

All: May I know good people and follow in their footsteps.

First Reading ~ Matthew 2:1-12

Leigh Anne Arnold

After the birth of Jesus, which happened in Bethlehem of Judea, during the reign of King Herod, Magi, astrologers, from the East arrived in Jerusalem and asked, “Where is the newborn ruler of the Jews? We observed his star at its rising and have come to pay homage.” When King Herod heard this, he was disturbed and troubled, and the whole of Jerusalem with him. Summoning all the chief priests and religious scholars of the people, he asked them where the Messiah was to be born. “In Bethlehem of Judea,” they informed him. “Here is what the prophet has written:

‘And you, Bethlehem, land of Judah, are by no means least among the leaders of Judah, since from you will come a leader who is to shepherd my people Israel.’”

Herod called the astrologers aside and found out from them the exact time of the star's appearance. Then he sent them to Bethlehem, after having instructed them, “Go and get detailed information about the child. When you have found him, bring me word so that I may also go and pay him homage.” After their audience with Herod, they set out. The star they had observed at its rising went ahead of them until it came to a standstill over the place where the child lay. When they saw that the star had stopped, they were overwhelmed with joy. On entering the house, they saw the child with Mary, his mother; and they knelt down and paid him homage. Then, opening their treasures, they offered him gifts of gold, frankincense, and myrrh. And having been warned in a dream not to return to Herod, they left for their own country by another way.

Second Reading

~ adapted from Sister Macrina Wiederkehr in "A Tree Full of Angels: Seeing the Holy in the Ordinary"

*Following the star we lean into your glory.
In your light, we see the light.
We never knew we were stars until you came.*

In the depths of my heart where God teaches me wisdom, I'm finally able to own the truth that God leaned down from heaven to show us how good we are, rather than to tell us how bad we are. To liberate us sinners, yes, but above all to liberate us from the folly of our own self-hate. We have heard far too much about the bad news of our corruption. The good news is that our frailty is what God chose to be wrapped in during the sojourn on earth. It is an incredible compliment to us. God loved us enough to get inside our skin. God loved us enough to help us see our dignity and value. We are like stars. Our light is the reflection of a greater light. We are beautiful to behold when we let God shine on us, in us, and through us.
