Gathering Words ~ adapted from Leonard Mason

One: We affirm the unfailing renewal of life.

Many: Rising from the earth, and reaching for the sun,
all living creatures shall fulfill themselves.

One: We affirm the steady growth of human companionship.

Many: Rising from ancient cradles and reaching for the stars, people the world over shall seek the ways of understanding.

One: We affirm a continuing hope

Many: That out of every tragedy the spirits of individuals shall rise to build a better world.

First Reading ~ Isaiah 2:1-5

The word that Isaiah ben-Amoz saw concerning Judah and Jerusalem. In days to come the mountain of YHWH's temple shall be established as the most important mountain, and raised above all other hills-- all nations will flow toward it. Many peoples shall come and say: "Come! Let us climb YHWH's mountain, to the house of the God of Jacob, that we may be instructed in God's ways and walk in God's paths." Instruction will be given from Zion, and the word of YHWH from Jerusalem. God will judge between the nations, and shall arbitrate for many peoples. They will beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruning hooks; one nation will not raise sword against another, and never again will they train for war. O house of Leah and Rachel and Jacob, come, let us walk in the light of YHWH!

Second Reading ~ Adapted from Sister Macrina Wiederkehr, O.S.B. in "A Tree Full of Angels: Seeing the Holy in the Ordinary"

Here is a concern: As we pine for angels and the otherworldly, there is the danger of missing a precious aspect of Christianity. We are an incarnational people. The Word was made flesh in our midst. We are rooted in an earth that God has proclaimed good. Here on this good earth we have become flesh with the seed of God hidden in us. The greatest of all visions is to see Christ, indeed, to see God, in the frail and glorious human family of the world. It is not always easy, but hope tenders that which is difficult. Pierre Teilhard de Chardin says it well: "Creatures are all around me with their disappointing weaknesses and their terrifying powers." Yes! It is true. We all have within us terrifying powers for good and for evil. We must trust the power for good. We must be people who long for spiritual depth and have the courage to struggle with the eternal questions that rise in our hearts. Within my own heart, too, there is an infinite longing, an ache for what is otherworldly. However, although I have never seen an angel, I am surrounded by a sacred presence I cannot explain.
