The Literacy & Learning Center is a vital community resource dedicated to enriching lives through education. Believing literacy is the foundation of a thriving community, TL&LC offers a wide range of free programs for all ages.

TL&LC provides a nurturing Pre-K program and engaging after-school activities for children, fostering a love of learning from an early age. Adults benefit from programs like English as a Second Language classes, GED preparation, and individualized tutoring.

The global impact of illiteracy is significant, with millions of adults worldwide lacking essential reading and writing skills. This disproportionately affects women and is linked to poverty. TL&LC addresses this by prioritizing early childhood education, a crucial step in breaking the cycle of illiteracy.

Vickie Betts, a former TL&LC board member, emphasizes the importance of the center's work: "When I was a parent working full-time and had three children, if I needed help, it was always comforting to know someone was there to do that. I feel like that's what The Literacy Center does. When the kids get behind, as we know, it's rarely easy to catch up. So, if we can catch things early and get them on the right track, I think that's great."

By providing free and accessible educational programs, TL&LC empowers individuals, strengthens families, and builds a brighter future for all.
