14 YEARS OF CARING

VOCATIONAL VISIONS

MEET RENE

For 14 years, Rene Rosales has been a familiar and caring presence at Vocational Visions and the Clubhouse. Through all those years, one thing has remained the same: Rene still comes to work with a smile and a heart for what he does.

For Rene, being a DSP starts with patience and respect. He takes the time to listen, speak kindly, and build trust with the participants he supports. Whether he's helping someone learn a new task or simply sitting down to hear about their weekend, Rene believes that showing someone you genuinely care makes all the difference.

Named Staff of the Year last year and now nominated to represent the Clubhouse for DSP Recognition Week, Rene reminds us that meaningful support doesn't always come from big moments. Sometimes, it's simply showing up with patience, kindness, and a genuine heart for the people you support.

For him, this work has never been only about a paycheck. It comes from a genuine love for the people he supports and the happiness he finds in being part of their lives.

"When I come to work, I leave everything outside because I know they need my help, they need my support."

This DSP Recognition Week, we celebrate Rene for the patience and gentle communication he gives everyone to make them feel comfortable, supported, and open up.
