Laramie, WY, United States

JOB DESCRIPTION

The University of Wyoming invites diverse applicants to consider our employment opportunities. We are also especially interested in candidates who have experience working with diverse populations and/or diverse initiatives.

JOB TITLE:

Clinical Assistant Professor (WWAMI Medical Education Clinical Medicine Instructor)

JOB PURPOSE:

The Wyoming WWAMI Medical Education program invites applications for a non-tenure track, Clinical Assistant Professor position, preferably beginning in the summer or fall term of 2023 to co-lead (with another 60% FTE faculty member) our Foundations of Clinical Medicine (FCM) course for first-year and second-year medical students and coordinate accompanying activities. Successful course delivery will require coordination, organization, and facilitation of clinical medicine instruction as part of a collaborative team. This is a year-round, part-time, 60% FTE (24-hours/week), benefitted position.

The WWAMI Medical Education program is Wyoming's Medical School. The University of Wyoming participates in the WWAMI Medical Education program, which is affiliated with the University of Washington School of Medicine (UWSOM) in Seattle, WA. Our Laramie regional campus is directly responsible for instruction of the basic sciences foundation and foundations of clinical medicine components of the medical education curriculum, which composes a majority of the first two years of medical school. The selected candidate will join a team in Laramie and across the WWAMI region dedicated to high-quality medical education. It is anticipated that the selected candidate will also gain affiliate faculty status with UWSOM.

UWSOM Foundations of Clinical Medicine course description: 'Introduction to continuity of care by working with practicing physicians and coinciding with instruction in communication skills, interviewing techniques, physical examinations, documentation, and clinical reasoning. Includes hospital-based patient encounters with an introduction to the development of the physician role.' Do note that at the Wyoming WWAMI site that we have a Hospitalist Lead who will collaborate to organize hospital-based patient encounters.

ESSENTIAL DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES:

- Schedule Foundations of Clinical Medicine (FCM) session facilitators, instruct or attend FCM sessions, ensure session learning objective coverage, monitor and grade student FCM assignments
- Attend meetings and collaborate with other UWSOM FCM leaders and co-develop course content, as needed
- Organize and coordinate student preceptor assignments for the FCM Primary Care Practicum

- Work with other units in the University of Wyoming College of Health Sciences to schedule shared clinical instruction space
- Coordinate specialty skills workshops (e.g. suturing, intubation, point of care ultrasound, etc.) that are beyond the FCM course but are consistent with other specialty workshops offered throughout the WWAMI region
- Coordinate hospital clinical instruction at Ivinson Memorial Hospital with our Wyoming WWAMI Hospitalist Lead
- Ensure proper credentialing of students per Ivinson Memorial Hospital, Cheyenne Regional Medical Center, and UWSOM standards has been achieved prior to clinical instruction in these spaces
- Other duties as assigned

SUPPLEMENTAL FUNCTIONS:

Activities may include but are not limited to:

- Organize physician faculty development as it pertains to WWAMI teaching as needed
- Serve on UWSOM committees and College of Health Sciences committees as available
- Offer career advising and mentorship to medical students
- Participation in professional organizations
- Participation in inter-professional education events within the College of Health Sciences
