- "It's like the Wild West," explains inquiry co-chairwoman and Labour MP Carolyn Harris.
- "We have people who are selling training courses which are not worth the paper they are written on. We have practitioners who are destroying the industry's reputation by practising completely unqualified and we have victims who are scarred for life."

The Report identified the rapid nature of change and development within the industry, and stated:

"The UK's licensing and regulatory landscape has not kept pace with these changes. The lack of a consistent legal framework of standards has left consumers at risk and undermined the industry's ability to develop, with negative connotations for the beauty sector as a whole".
