ENOUGH...

The Parent Project

Mom and Dad,

Parenting today is harder than ever. Why? Because of the amount of influences in this world that compete against your home's virtues. Your children are growing up in a battlefield between your home's morality, purpose, hopes, and dreams versus the world's opposing ideologies; and with today's technologies, innocence is destroyed at the click of a button.

If you want to know the best practices of parenting, coupled with the current trends on your kid's school grounds, then come to the parenting class that will change your parenting style for the better, forever. If you're a parent, then this class is for you, I guarantee it!

Next Class Starts:

January 17, 2018
