CONNECT WITH OTHERS. MAKE AN IMPACT.

The One Earth Film Festival continues to grow as the Midwest's premier environmental film festival. With films for all age groups, the festival showcases creative, thought-provoking films that shed light on the issues and highlights effective solutions and steps that audience members can take.

Its audience has grown significantly since 2012 with more than 10,000 total attendees over the past five years. In 2016, 56% of audience members were new attendees.

Help One Earth Film Festival reach its bold 2017 goal of continuing to build more pathways to action by engaging even larger and more diverse audiences throughout the Chicagoland area.

"The Nature Conservancy was a proud sponsor of the One Earth Film Festival in 2015 and 2016. The films shed light on some of world's most pressing conservation challenges. Post film discussions offered valuable opportunities to engage. – Marketing Director, The Nature Conservancy, Central US Division"

Three reasons to become a sponsor

- ✓ Sponsorship draws attention to your business as a leader in front of sustainability-oriented community members and leaders.
- ✓ Sponsorship gives voice to the next generation through the Young Filmmakers Contest, which invites students to propose solutions to climate challenges.
- ✓ Sponsorship links you with other sustainability trailblazers such as Nissan, Manaaki Foundation and The Nature Conservancy. Our sponsors model sustainable practices and spread vital messages of awareness.
