

CORSI ASSOCIATES APPOINTS NEW PROJECT COORDINATOR

Adding depth and experience to their customer-centered program

Springfield, PA – CORSI ASSOCIATES LLC (www.corsiassociates.com) is pleased to announce that Jackie Sgro has joined the team to further develop their growing portfolio of regional and national projects. Jackie comes with a wealth of experience within the Foodservice Design and Consulting field, having spent the last 20 years expanding her knowledge base and skill set in dealing with a variety of industry foodservice applications.

Jackie joins Corsi Associates as a Project Coordinator, and will support Corsi's recent growth. As Corsi's active projects and dollars specified continue to grow, Jackie's specification standardization and QA/QC will be an integral part of ensuring Corsi's culture of Customer Service and Attention to Detail remain key indicators of our success. Jackie comments "I am very excited to be joining one of the best and brightest foodservice design firms in today's market. Corsi has a reputation for progressive designs, both large and small and I am looking forward to meshing my strengths with those already evidenced by this team. I feel my skill set and experience brings an additional level of professional knowledge and understanding and look forward to seeing how far we can go."

Adam Corsi, Principal of the company, said "We are excited to have Jackie join the team. We are continuing to build the Corsi brand and Jackie will be a great asset in maintaining and improving our quality of work. Our goal is to provide the best designs with excellent project management so our clients are satisfied from start to finish. Jackie has the experience and detail-oriented outlook to make Corsi that much better."

About Corsi Associates

For over 30 years Corsi has been a full service provider and a trusted partner to Architects, Builders, Chefs and Entrepreneurs throughout North America, designing a wide variety of Foodservice operations. Our commitment begins at the first meeting and extends into planning, flow analysis, drawings, permits, equipment lists, specs, and bidding through installation. Our commitment does not end there. As your business grows and needs to evolve, we are there to help your vision become reality...and beyond.

With offices in Philadelphia and in New Jersey, Corsi is central to the Mid-Atlantic region and has grown to work with clients from coast to coast and overseas.

The main areas of our business include K-12 and Higher Education, Healthcare, Senior Living, Corporate and Retail/Food Court segments, Casinos, and we also work with a diverse client list outside of these mainstream segments.
