

Please show your spirit and help our industry by volunteering with the National Engineer's Week Future City Competition - NJ Regional Event! A STEM outreach program for Middle Schools.

WHEN: Saturday, January 18, 2020 from 8:30 AM – 5:00 PM (times approximate)

WHERE: Rutgers University, Livingston Campus Student Center

CHALLENGE: “Clean Water: Tap Into Tomorrow.” Teams identify a threat to their future city's water supply and design a resilient system to ensure a reliable supply.

For more information on mentoring and the current list of schools, contact:

Jean Hansen, at mentor@futurecitynj.org

- Flexible commitment – typically 20 – 40 hours between now and January.
- Help students stay on task, focus on “big picture”, perfect submissions, polish their presentation and build their models.

Volunteers are also needed to assist with Judging and Day-of-Event tasks (both great ways to easily learn more about this Program) – Contact:

Judging Coordinator: Andrea Almeida - judging@futurecitynj.org

- Remote judging of essays and other deliverables start in late November.
- Plus Judges are needed the day of the event.

Competition Day Coordinator: Silvia Santos - competition\_day@futurecitynj.org

- Many opportunities exist!
- A great first step to learn more about the program for new volunteers.
