for the Day

This Sunday is a day that actually goes by two names: Palm Sunday and Passion Sunday. It marks the triumphal entry of Jesus into Jerusalem welcomed by the crowds waving palms. It also marks the beginning of the journey to the cross and has the first reading of the passion narrative. Many church's mark this dual character of the day by changing liturgical colours part way through. We normally don't do this as it is difficult to do well, but the magic of Zoom means that suddenly it is easy!

Do remember to have your palm crosses with you - there will be a "procession" at the appropriate point in the liturgy.

When we come to the reading of the passion, we are going to do something a little bit different. We will invite you to open your microphone and join in the reading of the passion as the "witnesses" - Hopefully this will communicate something of the chaos and bustle around Jesus in his final hours. You will need to make sure that there is no other noise in your room, that you only speak your part (no background conversations) and you will need to switch off your microphone at the end of the passion reading. It is a bit of an experiment, but we hope you will join us in making this work.

Easter Day Service at 10:00am

We are delighted that our preacher for Easter morning, April 4th, will be Archbishop Linda Nicholls.

Archbishop Linda Nicholls was installed as Primate of the Anglican Church of Canada on July 16, 2019. Previously she served the Church as Bishop of Huron (2016-2019), Area Bishop of Trent-Durham, Diocese of Toronto (2008-2016), Coordinator for Dialogue for Ethics, Interfaith Relations and Congregational Development at the national office, and almost twenty years as a parish priest in the Diocese of Toronto. With degrees in music (BMus) and education (BEd) Linda taught high school music and math at Woodstock International Christian School for five years before theological studies at Wycliffe College (University of Toronto) and ordination as a deacon (1985) and priest (1986). She also holds a Doctor of Ministry degree (University of Toronto, 2002).

In addition to her commitment to healthy vibrant parish communities, Linda has engaged in the renewal of the healing ministry in congregational life; ethics in healthcare; spiritual direction; national theological commissions and ecumenical dialogue. She has served as the Co-Chair of the Anglican Roman Catholic Dialogue in Canada and is a member of the third Anglican Roman Catholic International Commission (ARCIC III).

Linda delights in opportunities to exercise her gifts as a teacher in leading retreats and conferences. Choral singing, wilderness canoeing and walking fill her recreation time along with her duties as staff to a cat.

Thank you to everyone who watched our Peace by Chocolate author talk with Jon Tattrie and Tareq Hadhad. We were thrilled to raise almost $6000 for the Stephen Lewis Foundation's Grandmothers Campaign, and it also inspired many orders of the book and chocolates!

15 years ago, at the very first Grandmothers Gathering in Toronto, Canadian grandmothers made a promise to African grandmothers that 'we would not rest, until they could rest'. Therefore Grandmothers all across Canada have been working very hard to present to you an online concert of Canadian talent to celebrate the 15th anniversary of the Grandmothers Campaign and to raise money and awareness for the African grandmothers. It includes vocal and instrumental music, dance, spoken word, and storytelling artists. Some of the performers are the National Ballet of Canada with First Soloist Siphesihle November, Steven Page, formerly with the Bare Naked Ladies, David Myles, Sheree Fitch, and Forte, The Toronto Gay Men's Chorus, which we affectionately call 'Ed's Other Choir'.

Check out the website on the poster for up-to-date information on the various performers. We think this will be a spectacular celebration of Canadian music and artistic talent. There will be something for everyone. Attendance is free, but donations are very much appreciated. The performance will be on April 15, but will then be available to watch, or re-watch, for 2 more days.

Marian Archbold is on the concert committee, and will be able to answer any questions you might have. marian.archbold@gmail.com or 705-762-2563
