

The image is drawn on large enough paper so that all worshipers can affix their fingerprints on either side of the river during the appointed time in the liturgy.

