

Career and Leadership Development Center September Newsletter

In OHIO News

CLDC becomes a proud recipient of the prestigious 1804 grant

Find opportunities in a number of fields at the Fall Career and Internship Fair

Non-profit organizations recruit Ohio University students during Work That Matters fair

Follow CLDC

Follow us on twitter

Leadership Workshop Requests

Take professional education to the next level by having a CLDC staff member visit your class or student organization. CLDC workshops are one hour (unless denoted otherwise), and designed to be completed in one class session.

Learn more.

Calendar of Upcoming Events

Bobcat Spotlight: Kelley Bodwell continues education with the Urban Teachers program in Washington, D.C.

"I also learned about Handshake through the CLDC, where I applied for the Urban Teacher program that I am currently in! I met with the CLDC to help determine if it was the right career move for me, and their guidance helped me determine that it definitely was. I'm really grateful for their support and insight!"

Read on.

Saturday Series

Sept. 21,
10 a.m.-5:20 p.m.

Understanding Team Development workshop

Sept. 24
6:30-8:30 p.m.

Keys to Networking Success workshop

Sept. 24
7:30-8:30 p.m.

Bobcat Brunch

Sept. 25
11:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m.

Encourage students to prepare for the job market

Students can equip themselves with the tools and resources needed to be successful in their job and internship search by taking part in the Career Readiness Training Program, formerly known as the Professional Leadership Certificate.

No registration or fee is required. Students can attend all six workshops for the next two Saturdays.

Opportunity to increase knowledge of leadership concepts

Students can engage in leadership discussions relevant to the OHIO experience by taking part in the 21st Century Leadership Program, formerly known as the 21st Century Leadership Certificate.

No registration or fee is required. Students can attend all six workshops for the next two Saturdays.

Click here for a full list of workshops.

Students invited to attend the Fall Career and Internship Fair

Students searching for an internship or job opportunity are encouraged to attend the fair. Employers representing 60+ industries from throughout Ohio and neighboring states are seeking students from all academic backgrounds. Visit the Career Students can schedule a career coaching appointment through Handshake for help preparing their resumes.

Read on.

Do you have students that want to make a difference in their community?

Students seeking full-time, internship and volunteer opportunities should attend the Work That Matters: Non-Profit and Service Fair. Recruiters from non-profit organizations will travel to campus in search of dedicated individuals to support their cause. Those students who are in need of help writing resumes or finding business casual wear should be referred to the CLDC.

Read on.

Storytelling Industry Panel

During the 2019-20 academic year, three industries will be featured and include a panel of employers and Ohio University alum. Light refreshments and drinks will be offered after each panel.

Read more about the event here.

