Background

African Countries are rich in natural resources with beautiful scenic, safaris, oceans, nature, etc hence we attract other continents to come and invest as well as capitalise on what we already have.

Tourism is a multi-sectoral sector with great potential to contribute towards the SADC economy.

Through Entrepreneurship, women can capitalise on the sector and its value chain grow sustainable businesses that can create jobs and alleviate poverty

This sector is still yet to be transformed and government plays important role in policy making.

The above is a collective efforts amongst all the key role players within the Tourism Value Chain.

Government programmes or policies should include lobbying the private sector to support the course
