Approximatley 3000 delegates, including 1576 exhibitors participated in last year's annual SADC Industrialisation Week in Dar es Salaam, Tanzania.

About the event

The SIW is an annual public private engagement platform aimed at fostering new opportunities for Intra-African trade, developing cross border value chains and identifying investment opportunities in Southern Africa.

Annually, the SIW brings together leading private sector experts, regional and global policy makers, Development Finance Institutions, SADC officials, donors, civil society and leading industrialists and captains of industry in SADC and in the continent to identify investment opportunities, industrialisation bottlenecks and jointly recommend solutions.

“An enabling business environment would create confidence among investors in manufacturing and eventually boost the value of intra-African trade”, said His Excellency, the late John Pombe Magafuli, former President of the United Republic of Tanzania at the 2019 SADC Industrialisation Week in Dar es Salaam.
