For Lesley, having food on the table was never guaranteed. With no father in the home and her mother struggling to find steady work, her family depended on relatives or the generosity of others just to eat.

But when Lesley and her brother began attending Lo Mejor del Trigo feeding program with Pastora Tabita, something changed: they could count on a hot, nutritious meal every single day.

Those meals became more than food. The church became a refuge - a place where Lesley found friendship, encouragement, and the security of knowing she belonged.

Grateful for what she has received, Lesley now helps around the "comedor" and sets an example for younger children. Her smile today stands in beautiful contrast to the uncertainty that once defined her life.
