Taking Notice
November 2026

A recent New Yorker cartoon shows two people looking up at a tree. Two leaves are chatting and one says to the other, Do you notice they only come to look at us when we're old and decrepit?

On our morning dog walk too often I see people walking their dog and looking at their phone.

The same in cars–driving behind some cars that are moving a bit erratically, 9 times out of 10 drivers are looking at their phones.

A good while back, Nick and I were at the Louvre, intent on seeing the Mona Lisa (not that impressed!). It was only in walking back that we realized we missed seeing so much beautiful art in our hurry to find it. Thankfully, we slowed down a bit and I was bowled over by Winged Victory.

There are times, aren't there, when we for whatever reason fail to take notice of what is around us–because we are caught up in our hand-held devices or are having an internal conversation or are planting gawk seed or …. add yours here.

We become accustomed to our routines and patterns that at times we fail to notice what is happening around us. One Sunday during the summer, some people paid intentional attention to the neighborhood surrounding the church–a neighborhood exegesis. Some of the prompts were:

- As you stand at the front doors of the church, what do you see as you look in each direction? What do you hear or sense? What activity do you notice?
- As you walk, what do you notice about the front yards or entries to each of the houses or apartments?
- Does this neighborhood feel like a cared-for place?
- Where do you see a park, what do you notice about it? Does it feel like an inviting place? Who is there?
- Where are the places of life, hope, beauty or community in this neighborhood?
- What evidence of struggle, despair, neglect and alienation do you see?
- In what ways do you sense God's presence in this area?

I invite you to explore the neighborhood surrounding the church using these questions. The full list of prompts is here. What do you notice? What jumps out at you? What do you continue to revisit afterwards?

An encouragement: as you walk, leave your phone in your pocket. Look up, down, around. If walking with someone, talk about what you are seeing. Make eye contact with people you pass.

Allow yourself to be moved, challenged, jarred, and surprised. I'll be interested to hear what you notice.

Blessings,
Pastor Sharon

Council Members Absent Excused: Lee Cronin; Sara Egeland

Call to order. Karen Miller called the meeting to order at 7:34.

Opening Devotions. Pastor Core led devotions by introducing the practice of "Examen," a prayerful reflection technique based on Ignatian spirituality.Pastor Core read a series of guiding questions from John O'Donahue's book To Bless the Space Between Us , inviting Council members to pause, look back upon their day and discern God's presence in both their challenges and joys.

Approval of Minutes. Minutes from the meeting were previously amended and approved by email.

Adoption of Agenda. The agenda as emailed prior to the meeting was approved by the Council.

Executive Committee Summary. The Executive Committee met on October 7 and talked about the items on tonight's agenda. Karen Miller also reported that after discussion the Executive Committee opted to table the effort to find new members for the personnel committee.

Discussion Item: General Updates from Pastor Core. Pastor Core offered a pastoral update in addition to her contributions to the agenda items of tonight's meeting.

Treasurer's Report. Treasurer Steve Bott presented the 2026 Financial Summary through September 30, which had been emailed to Council members prior to the meeting. He reported a year-to-date deficit of $84,265. The variance increased this month due largely to two factors: Calendar timing resulting in three pay periods falling in September, as well as reconciling pre-school facility use fees that were lower than expected. Additionally, contributions continue to be below budget.

Discussion Item: Call Committee Progress. Karen Miller reported that the Call Committee continues to forward names to Redeemer's contact at the Synod. We continue to pray for the Pastor that God is preparing for us.

Discussion Item: Stewardship Updates. Karen Miller provided an update on Stewardship activities. The Q3 stewardship letter has been finalized and will be distributed in the coming days. Additionally, the Intention Drive is underway and scheduled to conclude on October 23. Karen reported that 40 pledges have been received to date, representing an increase compared to the midpoint of last year's drive.

Discussion Item: Building Project Status. Karen Miller provided an update on the items listed below:

- Finishings for Classrooms, Conference Room, and Library. Faith Formation and Confirmation teachers have been invited to provide a supply request for "artwork" for their classrooms, and manyof these items have been ordered. Planning and brainstorming for the library and conference room remain ongoing. Council discussed ways to use these and other common spaces to celebrate Redeemer's history and foster community recognition among congregants. The booklet commemorating the 60th anniversary was highlighted as a potential source of inspiration for the design and furnishing of these shared areas.
- Columbarium. Rob Wenk is currently securing contractor bids on the redesigned plans for the Columbarium. Karen Miller noted that donors who expressed specific interest in the original Columbrium plans have been apprised of the recent adjustments.

- Playground. Work on the playground project will be deferred to Fall 2027.

Discussion item: Council Nominating Committee and Interim Council Appointment. Council addressed upcoming Council vacancies and the formation of a nominating committee.

- Interim Council Appointment. To fill the immediate vacancy left by Annabelle Allard, the Council discussed appointing an individual to complete the remainder of the term, per constitutional guidelines. Suggestions of experienced members who could be approached to fill this interim position were provided.
- Upcoming Council Terms. The three-year terms for the replacements of Council members who are stepping down will begin in February 2027.
- Nominating Committee Formation. Lee Cronin has agreed to serve on the upcoming Nominating Committee. Karen Miller requested that an additional Council member volunteer to join the committee. The committee will also require the selection of two non-Council congregants as members. After a brief discussion of potential candidates, Karen asked Council to send her more names as they come to mind.

Discussion Item: Worship and Music. Pastor Core, Sabine Detweiler, and Karen Miller provided an update on Redeemer's Worship and Music Ministry.

- Worship Leadership Training. A training session was held on October 11 for individuals interested in various worship leadership roles. Twelve people who had not previously been involved in leadership were among those in attendance. The session successfully generated strong momentum for recruitment.
- Banner Maintenance. Karen Miller reported that she has connected two congregants who expressed interest in repairing the church banners. She reiterated that restoring the banners is a priority for the Worship and Music ministry.
- Altar Flowers. The weekly arrangement of altar flowers will be transitioned to a local florist. The associated cost increase to the church budget is minimal.
- Youth Worship (October 25). Pastor Core shared eager anticipation for the upcoming youth-led service, noting that the youth are doing a fantastic job planning the liturgy. Council was encouraged to rejoice in their unique energy, enthusiasm, and authentic expression of faith.
- Special Service Coordination. Planning is underway with Pastor John Teitman for the upcoming worship service scheduled for November 1.

Discussion Item: Worship Vision Forum Update. Council approved an internal review and visioning of how Redeemer worship meets the current needs of members, as well as future needs. David Broderdorf led a team of Megan Kratz, Sabine Detweiler, and Pastor Sharon to establish the Worship Vision Forum. The group drafted a formal charter to outline the parameters for reviewing and discussing the accessibility, overall schedule, and content of Redeemer's worship experience. The Forum intends to engage the congregation and hold monthly meetings, with the goal of releasing a comprehensive report in Spring 2027. In discussion, Council noted that engaging in these activities would likely add value to Redeemer's search for a new pastor during the Call process.

Action Item: Redeemer Renaissance Update. Sara Egeland submitted her report and the recommended slate of candidates for the Renaissance Board via email prior to the meeting. The slate of Board Candidates, including the addition of Council President Karen Miller (as member ex oficio) to the roster as required by the Redeemer Consitution, are as follows:

- Core, Pastor Sharon (ex oficio)
- Egeland, Sara (Council Liaison)

A motion was made by Sabine Detweiler to accept the proposed slate of board members for the Redeemer Renaissance program, including the formal addition of Council President Karen Miller to the board roster. The motion was seconded by Megan Kratz. Council approved the motion unanimously.

In follow-up discussion, it was confirmed that the Renaissance Board would present their annual budget to the Council at the meeting in November.

Discussion Item: Membership Outreach. Pastor Core and Gene Morrow shared plans to strengthen visitor engagement. Pastor Core is inviting potential candidates to an informational lunch session. The intent is to form a dedicated membership team that will intentionally greet, welcome, and interact with visitors attending weekly services.

Discussion Item: Youth Topics and Christian Education. Council reviewed the status of youth and educational programs.

- Youth-Led Service on October 25. Anna P reported that two planning meetings have been held in close coordination with Pastor Core and Grace Sweeney in anticipation of the event.
- Confirmation Instruction. Karen Miller reported that the confirmation program will use a single-teacher model led by Paula Green, with Doug Johnson designated as the primary substitute teacher.
- The Gathering 2027. Anna P reported that five youth are currently expected to register and attend as of the date of this meeting.
- Youth Programming. Regular youth programming (outside of Sundays) is temporarily on hold due to conflicting schedules and multiple demands of time.

Discussion Item: Nametag and Directory Project. Karen Miller reported that updated directory information and photos were successfully gathered during the worship services on October 4 and October 11. Distribution plans for the new parish nametags are currently underway. A second directory update session is anticipated to take place in November to capture additional entries.

Better Hearing Tips in Redeemer's Sanctuary

1. Sit directly in front of a speaker. There are four speakers in the sanctuary (two on each side). The speakers are tall, thin, tan-colored, and mounted to the wall. It is advised for better hearing to sit at the end of the pew, closest to the wall, and facing a speaker as the sound comes directly from them.

2. Avoid sitting where the sound is less clear. If you are in a pew where the closest speaker is behind you (not pointed directly at you) the sound will be traveling away from you, and you will not hear as well. Also, if a wall column partially blocks your view of the speaker, then it is partially blocking the sound from that speaker.

3. Use one of our sound amplifiers. The sound system operator can provide you with a battery-operated device that amplifies the sound coming from the sound system. They come with a plug that goes directly into your ear. We have several extra ear plugs, and you can keep one with you and re-attach it yourself to the device each week, if you prefer.

4. Sit in one of the first few pews. In addition to the recommendations above, some people find they hear better the closer they are to the front. It may be especially helpful to sit directly in front of the pulpit for the sermon. At the same time, please keep in mind the recommendation described in Item #1 above and be as close as possible to one of the speakers that is facing towards you.

The sound system operators do their best to keep the sound volume as high as possible without it becoming too loud and discomforting for other people in attendance. Thank you for your understanding and we hope these recommendations are helpful to you.

HAPPENING AT REDEEMER

Redeemer Call Committee Update and Affirmation of Purpose!

"We always give thanks to God for all of you and mention you in our prayers, constantly remembering before our God and Father your work of faith and labor of love and steadfastness of hope in our Lord Jesus Christ." So says Paul in his first letter to the Thessalonians. This verse was inspirational to hear on Sunday, October 18th in light of our Call and the journey we embarked on over a year ago. Faith and labor, steadfastness of hope is central to forging the path He lays before us.

That path started with the appointment and activity of the transition team, who, with your help, identified key characteristics of our congregation, and gifts required of anyone charged with leading us, as well as the gifts we bring to our worship and ministry. With the release of the transition team report, the official Call committee was established and worked diligently to officially enter the Call process with our Synod, in accordance with ELCA practice. Culminating in the posting of our Ministry Site Profile in July, we took the time to develop questions and preparational materials for anticipated interviews.

Since that time, we've worked with the DC Metro Synod to creatively identify candidates from across the nation to discern and consider a call to our humble church. From the start we were advised to be patient, prayerful, and perspicacious, as the supply of available pastors may not precisely meet the timing we expected. This sage advice has come to pass, and while we've had several prospective pastors presented with the propitious opportunity to accept an interview, the Lord has thus far not pushed them to be inspired to that end.

Do not despair, as this remains Good news! In each of the opportunities presented, He has guided individuals to serve where their talents and temerity are required. Reflecting on this week's (October 18th) Gospel lesson, "For many are called, but few are chosen," when the time is right, and the pastor is right, and the opportunity is right, He will propitiously present them for our mutual review and exploration. Find solace and comfort that we are ready for that moment.

Your Call Committee,
Jason, Craig, Sam, Tricia, Bonnie, David, Karen, Ellie, Hannah, Robin, Johannes

Holiday Meal Food Baskets
Donate by 11/8

Please join Redeemer in helping Second Story provide Holiday Meal Food Baskets to local youth and families who are struggling through critical times in their lives.

Since each basket needs to contain the same items and a grocery store gift card, we will be collecting funds to purchase the desired items in bulk, and then we will gather to assemble the baskets.

Funds maybe donated by giving checks/cash in envelope marked "Second Story" or online. A $35 donation will purchase all the food items in a Holiday Basket.

To have the baskets ready and delivered in time for Thanksgiving, the deadline for giving is 11/8.

If you would like to help assemble the baskets and/or deliver them to Second Story, please contact Kim Wenk at kbwenk@gmail.com.

Second Story equips local youth and their families with critical tools, housing, and communities of support needed to achieve lasting self-sufficiency through residential and community-based programs. To learn more about Second Story, visit their website at second-story.org
