September 8, 2021

Dear Flight Attendants,

Aviation security is personal to us. No matter the uniform we wear, the routes we fly, or the years we have worn our wings we will always remember the events of September 11th, lift up our heroes and do everything in our power to ensure the events are never repeated.

Everything changed twenty years ago on September 11, 2001. We are not only first responders to emergencies affecting the health and safety of our passengers and other crewmembers, we are also our nation's last line of defense in aviation security.

This year we applied the lessons of September 11th to fight hard for our careers in the midst of a new crisis that could have again crippled our industry. Our efforts to care for each other, maintain our role as aviation's first responders, and protect our jobs is all part of keeping the promise to Never Forget. It is through adversity that this promise is tested, but we will never waiver and we will always stay united in our resolve to protect, defend, and advance our careers – especially in honor of those we've lost.

We will never forget our heroes and we will always seek to honor their sacrifice with our actions – not only through our work for safer skies, but in the way we contribute to each of our communities at home and those that we visit around the world.

FADAP: September is National Recovery Month

The Flight Attendant Drug and Alcohol Program (FADAP) is a substance-abuse prevention program created and run by Flight Attendants and AFA and funded through the FAA. FADAP's mission is to support a culture of safety which will be able to assist Flight Attendants in meeting their personal and professional goals through substance-abuse awareness, combined with self and peer referrals for assistance, and the implementation of a flight-attendant-specific recovery support system.

September 2021 is National Recovery Month. This year's theme is, "Recovery is For Everyone: Every Person, Every Family, Every Community" to remind people in recovery and those who support them that no one is alone in the journey through recovery. Everyone's journey is different, but we are all in this together. Recovery Month will continue to educate about substance use disorders and co-occurring disorders, about the effectiveness of treatment and recovery services, and that recovery is possible.
