Chad Delbridge

Chad Delbridge has spent over 20 years in education serving as a teacher, assistant principal, principal, and a certified observer for the Charlotte Danielson's Framework for Teaching.

He is currently the principal of Freedom Elementary School, serving the largest military population in the state of Wyoming. He received his bachelor's degree from Lee University and master's degree from Tusculum, both in Tennessee, and his principal endorsement from the University of Wyoming.

He has been awarded teacher of the year, and spent several years coaching football and basketball. He served on the Scholastic READ 180 board and in a gap analysis for English language arts standards at the K-6 level. He is one three leaders in Cheyenne to implement the Elementary Student 2 Student program. This is designed to increase awareness of the challenge's military children face while addressing school transitions and concerns impacting mobile elementary school students.

Mr. Delbridge was appointed to the State Council on the Military Interstate Children's Compact in 2012. He works to ensure a high-quality education for all students while serving as an advocate for military children.
