THE GRAY CENTRE FOR MOBILITY AND ACTIVITY at Parkwood Institute

LAWSON Research Institute
ST. JOSEPH'S HEALTH CARE LONDON

Are you a health or social care provider for people with musculoskeletal disorders in Southwestern Ontario, Canada?

We are researchers from the Gray Center for Mobility and Activity at Parkwood Institute (Main) at St. Joseph's Health Care London looking for health and social care providers willing to participate in research to explore an integrated care approach for people with chronic musculoskeletal (MSK) disorders.

Am I compensated for my time?

Yes- you will be compensated for your participation time.

What does participation involve?

You can choose to participate in:

- Individual interviews (~1 hr): conducted over the phone, using MS Teams, or in person,
- Focus group discussion (~1.5 hr) to co-design an integrated care pathway for people with chronic MSK disorders, conducted virtually using MS Teams, or
- Both individual interviews and focus group discussions.
